HUGGINS' HIRED HANDS SLAM WAY TO PENNANT FOR AMERICAN LEAGUE

Bambino Ruth Starts Business by Busting Home Run; Eighth Inning Rally Nearly Gives Giants Game

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Coming from behind in the eighth inning with a rally so inspiring as to fill the eye and gladden the hearts, the Yanks brought the first American league world's title to New York by beating the Giants in the sixth and final game of the world's series this afternoon. The score was 6 to 4.

The Yankees fought as only true fighting men can when backed up against the wall, rising high on a wave of five runs in the eighth inning just when defeat at the hands of Art Nehf and the Giants in general seemed inevitable. Nehf only made two mistakes during the game and his blow up in the eighth behind a three-run lead and the fact that he hadn't allowed a hit for six innings was the second of them.

Third Homer in Series
He was nothing less than losing a curve right in Ruth's groove with the count three and two in the opening inning. The net result was a home run into the right field stands, Ruth's third of the series, breaking all records for post-season classics. No other player has ever hit three home runs in a single series.

This mistake was as nothing compared with the immediate collapse of Nehf in the eighth inning. Suddenly he became a perforated balloon from which all the wind escaped in hissing, whistling jets. He retired Ward on a fly to Kelly just before he broke up. First off Schang singled to left and took third behind Scott's single down the right field line.

More Thrills in Store
At this juncture, Hoffman was inserted as a pinch hitter for Penneck. Penneck had pitched an indifferent game. Huggins switched his chewing tobacco and named Haines to hit for Witt, he also walked on four straight balls, so did Nehf to the bench. Bush's pass forced in Schang with the first run and Ryan, who succeeded Nehf, proceeded to copy his trick by passing Dugan, forcing in Scott.

This piece of business brought Ruth up with the bases filled with the fans' lips smacking in anticipation of another home run. Ryan fanned the big batter on curve balls.

R. Meusel, however, singled solidly to center, scoring Haines and Johnson, pinch runner, and when Cunningham threw blithely past Groh, Duga also scored.

First Inning
First half—Witt up. One strike, called. Ball one, wide. Foul tip, strike two. Witt out, on a fly to Groh. Dugan up. Strike one, called. Ball one inside. Ball two low. Foul, strike two, into upper stands. Foul. Dugan out, Frisch to Kelly.

Ruth Starts It
Ruth up. Strike one, called. Ball one, wide. Ball two, wide. Foul, strike two. Ruth protested that Snyder was tipping his bat, while Huggins, Ruth and O'Day argued about it. Ball three, high. Ruth hit a home, it was foul by only a few feet. Ball three, low. Strike three, called. Meusel fanned.

The count was three and two on him when he crashed into a curve ball. The crowd gave Ruth a roaring reception. E. Meusel up. Ball one, wide. Strike one, swung. Ball two, wide and low. Foul, strike two. Foul into upper left field stands. It was foul by only a few feet. Ball three, low. Strike three, called. Meusel fanned.

One run, one hit; no errors.
Ruth's homer was his third of the series and it is believed sets a new record, no other player ever having got it at many in any previous world's series.

Second half—Bancroft up. Strike one, called. Strike two, swung. Ball one, wide. Foul into third base stands. Bancroft out on a fly to Witt. Groh up. Ball one, wide. Ball two, high inside. Ball three, inside. Strike one, called. Strike two, called. Groh singled to left. Frisch up. Foul,

OKLAHOMA FLOOD MENACING TOWNS

Water Works Dam in Danger as North Canadian River Rages

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 15.—Low land residential sections were flooded here at noon today as the North Canadian river registered a fourteen-foot flood stage. This was two feet below June's record, which wrecked $2,500,000 property damage and rendered hundreds of families homeless. The crest of the flood was roaring toward the city, and will probably be five feet higher at midnight—the highest stage in June—16.3 feet—the United States weather bureau predicted.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 15.—A wave of water four feet high and two miles wide, was roaring past Yukon at 9:30 o'clock this morning, sweeping before it thousands of heads of livestock, barns and farm houses.

Only twelve miles lay between it and Oklahoma City, where it is expected to strike by noon.

The great water works dam west of the city on the North Canadian river which has withstood previous floods, was in imminent danger, it was reported.

Should the dam break, acres of densely populated blocks in the residential districts of Oklahoma City would be inundated as well as the downtown business section.

Women Missionaries Rescued by Chinese

SHANGHAI, Oct. 15.—General Chang today wired Peking that his forces had defeated the bandit chief Tein Fan, "the terrible," and rescued the Misses Darroch and Sharp, missionary workers, captured and held for ransom several weeks ago.

At the same time word came that bandits had captured J. Stamm, a representative of the Luchow, and four junks laden with oil. This report said Stamm was being held for $2,000 ransom under threat of death if his capture was reported to the authorities.

Details of recent fighting about Chungking between rival Chinese factions received today that Rev. W. A. Hick, head of the China Inland mission at that point, had been shot through the neck during one of the battles.

General Chang did not advise regarding the treatment accorded Misses Darroch and Sharp by the bandits.

JEWELER ROBBED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Caesar Attell, brother of Abe and Monte Attell, prize fighters, proprietor of the Atlas Jewelry company on Third street, was held up today and robbed of diamonds and cash aggregating $5000 by a lone bandit.

STOKES SUIT HEARING IS RESUMED

Janitor Admits Mistake in Identifying Woman as Apartment Visitor

By JACK CARBERRY
For International News Service
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The marital drama of "Stokes vs. Stokes" was back on Broadway today, following a brief stay on "Main street."

The star of the "million dollar production," Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, was not to appear on the fifth day of the trial, however. The former Denver society belle, defendant in the sensational divorce action brought by her 73-year-old husband, William Earl Dodge Stokes, millionaire and self-styled "historian," had not returned to New York from Bunceon, Mo., where she attended a special hearing before a commissioner, designed to check up "loose ends" in the case.

Janitor Called Back
Joseph A. Thornton, negro janitor at the Wallace flat, who testified Thursday that he saw Mrs. Stokes enter the building twice, was recalled to the stand for further cross-examination, when the hearing was resumed this morning.

Thornton was again asked about a statement he made to First Assistant District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora, in which the witness said he had "made an honest mistake" when he identified Mrs. Stokes as the woman who visited the Wallace First avenue apartment.

Thornton alleged this statement was secured from him by "third degree" methods. Thornton then told of another statement he signed—a typewritten statement presented to him by Stokes.

"Stokes brought the statement around to me typewritten and I signed it," the witness testified.

Secured Witnesses
Thornton, it developed, had "worked" for Stokes, securing negro witnesses for him.

"Stokes asked me if I ever saw a red-headed woman come to the Wallace flat," Thornton said. "I said I might have."

"He showed me a picture. I said I saw a woman of that type at Wallace's."

"Then he said the woman was in great distress at a hospital and that she had two children and he said he was looking for Wallace so he could sue him and get money for the woman."

"That's what I thought this case was about."

LEGION JAMS BAY CITIES WITH VETS

More Than 100,000 in Riotous and Colorful Convention Opening Today

BULLETIN:
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California made an unexpected appearance on the Legion program. He was given a tremendous ovation today, following a brief short patriotic speech.

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—The greatest throngs since the Panama-Pacific exposition have concentrated a hundred thousand additional population here for the fifth annual national convention of the American Legion opening today.

It would be an excellent opportunity for San Francisco to take census and outstrip Los Angeles by including its "tourist crop" for this event. The Ninety-first Wild West division closed its yearly jamboree last night with feverish excitement and brilliant street scenes which recalled days following the close of the war.

All States Represented
Every state is represented here at the convention, not to forget Porto Rico, Panama, Philippines, Hawaii, Alaska and Victoria, B. C., which is making a bid for next year's convention, "up where the west begins." Almost double the 60,000 of last year at New Orleans are assembled here today. Glendale's delegates are simply "lost" in the crowd.

Over 6000 delegates to the Women's auxiliary and thousands of La Societe Des 40 Hommes and 8 Chevaux add a vivid touch to the city, which is a brilliant blaze of streamers and flags from one end of Market street to the other.

Near Riot in Crush
Every hotel is jammed, the lobbies echoing of reminiscences. Headquarters are maintained at Larkin hall of the exposition civic center. The Auditorium, holding 12,000 people, today was the scene of a near riot when four or five times that number swamped the building in one wild rush for admission.

Commander Owsley was accorded a tremendous ovation as he strode down the aisle of the convention hall beside Miss Ruby Lapiet, who rode a "old gray mare" into the convention hall while the Texas band blared the old song by that name.

Fire's Victim

CLARENCE EDWARDS
Well Known Glendale Legionnaire Whose Charred Body Was Found Sunday.

TWO HEROES DIE FIGHTING FLAMES

Trapped in Raging Inferno While Battling to Stem Advance of Fire

Trapped by raging fires on the peak of the highest hills one and a half miles east of Verdugo road north from Verdugo park, Clarence Edwards of 369 West California avenue, deputy plumbing inspector for the city of Glendale and J. W. McGahan of Sycamore Canyon road, plumber, were burned to death Saturday afternoon, October 13, 1933. Their charred bodies were found on the barren hillside yesterday afternoon by Officers Ralph Baugh and G. Heminger.

Burned almost beyond recognition, the bodies lay about a foot apart and told of tragic deaths. The hands of the two men were clutching the earth as though they had bravely struggled against the fire and smoke until the last.

According to reports Mr. Edwards and Mr. McGahan were seen about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon driving north of Verdugo road. It is thought that Mr. McGahan was taking Mr. Edwards to inspect some plumbing recently installed.

The fire was then burning fiercely and when they reached a place beyond the park they joined in the fire-fighting service. In their strenuous work with the other fighting squads it is thought that Mr. Edwards and Mr. McGahan had perhaps started towards Sycamore canyon, to help fight the fire near the McGahan home. They were trapped by the treacherous flames and smoke and met their deaths in the raging inferno.

Obituary of Edwards
Clarence Edwards, who was 34 years of age, was a native of New York. He and his family came to Glendale twenty years ago, and he and his widowed mother, Mrs. Johanna Edwards, were the only members of the family remaining in Glendale.

Besides his mother Mr. Edwards leaves a sister, Mrs. Charles Williams of Brea, California.

A former service man and member of the Glendale post of the American Legion, a Mason, member of the First Methodist church, valued employee of the city, and devoted son, Mr. Edwards had a host of friends in Glendale, who were shocked to receive word of his sudden and tragic death. He was to have left yesterday morning to attend the American Legion convention now in session at San Francisco.

His record during the world war included; enlistment with the Twenty-first Artillery of the National Guard, and further service with Ninth Company at Deadman's Island, with the Fifth Company at Fort McArthur; at Camp Eustace, Virginia, with Battery C. French Mortar battalion, overseas. He was discharged at Camp Kearney February 8, 1919.

SIX EMPLOYEES OF EDISON COMPANY MISSING, REPORT

Recover Two Bodies and Three Others in Hills, Claim; Number Hurt Battling With Fierce Flames

Under the direction of Norman C. Johnson, assistant county forester, Glendale police officers, firemen and others went to the hills this afternoon to locate the three bodies reported by Southern California Edison company crews as having been seen in the fire area, northeast of this city.

Chief A. H. Lankford, Captain Ralph Dodsworth of the fire department; Lieut. W. J. Royle, Sergeant J. D. Cole, Motorcycle Officers Baugh, Hemminger, Armer and Collins of the police department, and J. R. Thorpe of Oakmont Saddle stables, Montrose are among those searching.

It is expected they will return before nightfall with other dead, while local officers are checking on the missing men.

Five or more are believed to have perished in the million dollar fire which swept the San Rafael foothills east of Glendale late Saturday and early Sunday morning, according to reports at noon today from those searching the dying embers in Sycamore and adjacent canyons.

The known dead are:
J. W. McGAHAN, 37, plumber, resident of Sycamore canyon. CLARENCE EDWARDS, 34, 369 West California avenue, deputy plumbing inspector.

Three other unidentified bodies are reported already found. The missing include:
E. K. SPENCER, employe of Johnson-Anawalt Lumber company, Montrose.

Six employes of Southern California Edison company.

The injured list:
W. E. MAGEE, of Tujunga, stopped at Montrose drug store this morning, treated for burns on arms, face and ears. IGNACIO LUCIA, and two other Southern California Edison company employes, treated at Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Following is said to be an accurate account as to how the most disastrous fire started Saturday morning, the result of an investigation made this morning by C. J. Young, fire marshal at La Crescenta:

A. W. (Doll) Williams, who resided in a house owned by Herman Nelson, vice president and manager of the Glendale avenue Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank, purchased an airtight heater recently in which he built a fire Saturday morning.

On account of the high wind he had laid papers on the floor of the house to stop the draft, and these blew against the stove, setting the house on fire while he was outside. A. M. Ogan saw the fire start from there and jump 200 yards into the hills nearby.

Fire Marshal Young gathered his firefighters in ten minutes and came to Glendale where he got 200 men with shovels. Had these men and materials been on hand he could have stopped the fire before it swept south of Sparr Heights, he says.

A forest ranger soon took charge and drafted men into action as the blaze swept on toward Glendale's Verdugo park in the back canyons of San Rafael hills, police, firemen and all other agencies of information became disorganized by the exhaustive work of handling the work over a five-mile front with the result that Fire Chief Lankford today is making a survey of the entire district to discover the dead bodies, whose homes were buried, and other facts.

City Manager W. H. Reeves and other officials are turning their attention to financing the cost of the fire-fighting, while a relief fund has been organized by The Glendale Evening News.

In Los Angeles one man is believed to have lost his life in a fire that swept the Ganahl Lumber company and entire block at Thirty-seventh and Alameda streets. The man unidentified believed dead is known to have entered the burning section with two other men. Several firemen were also injured.

A new brush fire was reported threatening homes and property in Los Flores canyon early today, (Continued on page 2)

GLENDAL TO AID VICTIMS OF FIRE

Subscription List Starts for Families of Men Who Were Burned to Death

Subscriptions to be turned over to the families of the two men who perished while fighting flames on San Rafael hills east of Glendale, are being received by The Glendale Evening News.

One of the victims, Clarence Edwards, leaves an aged mother, Mrs. Johanna Edwards, 369 West California.

The other victim, Joseph W. McGahan, leaves a widow and two children, their home being in Sycamore canyon.

Both men, trapped by the fire, were burned almost beyond recognition. They made the supreme sacrifice fighting to save property belonging to other people. They did not hesitate at the call for volunteers.

And today there is mourning in two homes. Many people have said they would like to aid the families of the two victims. The Glendale Evening News offers the opportunity; the generous people of Glendale, the big-hearted citizens will do the rest.

The list, which went into circulation shortly before noon today, contains the following:

Social EventsBirthday Party

Miss Mildred Bowler celebrated her birthday anniversary Friday very happily when she entertained a number of young friends at a local theatre, followed by an evening of games at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Bowler, 501 South
Glendale avenue.

A pretty color scheme of orange was carried out in floral decorations and favors. Salmon color sweetmeats were served on a table where a beautiful birthday cake was served with other dainty refreshments. The hostess was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

The guests were—Misses Katherine Kelley, Anna Rattigan, Peggy Brennan, Irene Verrill, Beatrice Smith, Catherine Doll, Ruth Berndt, Mary Virginia
Bryan, Lydia Berry.

Tells Of Japan

The Girls' Missionary society, of which Miss Maud Soper is president, has a special meeting Sunday evening at 5 o'clock at the Verdugo church, and listened to a most interesting talk by Miss Belle Griffiths, recently returned from Japan. Miss Griffiths has spent many years in the Orient, going out first in 1885,
and has had many interesting experiences during her years in the foreign mission field, as well as during the recent disaster to Japan. She is a personal friend of Rev. and Mrs. Julius Soper of 1305 North Maryland avenue.

Honor Teachers

The members of the Grand View Parent-Teacher association are entertaining tomorrow night, Tuesday, October 16, at the schoolhouse with a reception honoring the teachers of the school.
An interesting program has been planned for the affair by Mrs. Wallace W. Plumb, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Jessie Morgan and Mrs. Shelly Smith.
At the close of the program an informal social hour will be enjoyed and refreshments served.
All members and friends are invited and urged to be present.

Meet On Tuesday

The Girls' Friendly Society will meet tomorrow night, Tuesday October 16, in the Guild hall of St.
Mark's Episcopal church. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, which will be followed by a short business session and an informal social hour. All members and friends are invited to be present.
Interested are cordially invited to attend.

Annual Meeting

The annual J. O. C. convention will be held at the First Methodist church of Los Angeles on October 20 and 21. All local J. O. C. members planning on attending the banquet are requested to make their reservations with Mrs. Lydia Roberts at

Los Angeles County's

Fair Opens Tuesday

POMONA, Oct. 15.—Tomorrow morning, the Los Angeles County fair, the biggest event of the kind ever staged in the greatest agricultural county in the United States will be ready to open. The big main tent, which covers more space than any tent ever set up in Southern California is fully prepared for the fair. The exhibitors are prepared by almost all of the large centers of wealth in agriculture of this and the surrounding counties.

Exhibits prepared by the several counties themselves fill the great central sections. Here is, indeed, a place to see what Southern California can really do in agriculture and industry. But the showing is not confined to the Southland. Some of the counties of the northern part of the state are also present with fine exhibits.
The fair will be open from Tuesday to Saturday, inclusive.

CHORAL SOCIETY

The Glendale Choral society will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Glendale High school auditorium.
J. Arthur Myer is director of the society and Gertrude Champlain Erb is accompanist. All experienced singers are invited to attend the meeting.

Wed In Glendale

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stees of 141 South Everett street, was the scene on Wednesday night
of a very pretty wedding ceremony, when Mrs. Stees' niece, Miss Glendora Elora Marie Mellon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Mellon of North Lake avenue, Pasadena, became the bride of Alfred Thompson Theal, son of John E. Theal of North Marengo street, Pasadena.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock Wednesday night before a company of relatives and immediate friends. Rev. Selley of Eagle Rock was the officiant.
The bride party stood under a floral arch of white dahlias and pink cosmos.

The bride wore a white satin
and chiffon bridal gown, trimmed with Spanish lace and a butterfly pearl ornament. She wore a bridal veil of white silk tulle, fastened with a band of orange blossoms and pearls. Her shower bouquet was of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Luella Wadsworth, the maid of honor was gowned in a beautiful gown of pale pink satin and carried a bouquet of sweet-peas and fern.

Miss Hazel Boyer, cousin of the bride, served as bride's maid and wore a blue gown of silk crepe trimmed in silver lace and hand made rose buds. She carried pink roses.

Lyman Theal, brother of the groom acted as best man.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held at which time the bridal couple received congratulations and best wishes from the guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Theal are enjoying a honeymoon trip in a tourist resort and upon their return will make their permanent home on North Marengo Avenue, Pasadena.

Literary Section

The next regular meeting of the Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club will be held in the tea room of the clubhouse,
Wednesday afternoon, October 17, at 2:30 o'clock. Hostesses will be Mrs. H. C. Wilcox and Mrs. H.
D. Fortier.

The program will be in charge of the Native Daughters, who have chosen as their subject,
"Early California." The following subjects will be presented as follows: "California Indians," Mrs. E. W. Gililand; "California Missions," Mrs. Lillian Empey;
"California Memories," Mrs. J. E.
Sargent.

Miss Dorothy Dagley, graduate of the Northwestern university will present a group of musical readings.

T. A. C. Meets

Tuesday Afternoon club women will meet at the clubhouse tomorrow for luncheon and an afternoon musical program.
Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock and the speakers will be Capt. Richmond P. Hobson; Mrs. J. B. Lorber, vice-president of the Los Angeles District Federation; and Mrs. Neill and Mrs. Service, recently of Japan.

Later there will be a short business meeting in the auditorium followed by a concert by the Philharmonic trio, Jules Lepski, violin; Bright, cello; and Alfred Kastner, harp.

Rev. Kline, New Pastor,

Preaches Sermon

Rev. Leo C. Kline, the newly appointed pastor of the Central avenue Methodist church, preached an earnest and practical sermon yesterday morning from James Epistle, first chapter, verse
27. "Pure religion and undefiled before God the father, is this, to visit the fatherless and the widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

"My text," said Mr. Kline, "is a practical definition of what religion is. Faith and work is largely the theme of James' epistle to the early church and they are the indispensable attributes of pure religion. Social service is receiving greater recognition than ever. Not alone the church, but colleges, fraternal societies and lawmakers are considering ways to assist the distressed, the unemployed, to create different and better conditions of employment.
In this connection I am pleased to note that the Pacific coast states are leading the world in their laws to protect and assist the working class. Perhaps, due to the fact that the progressive men and women of the nation have taken up their residence here and exerted a helpful influence. There is still need for service of this kind. Keeping unspotted from the world does not imply that one is to become a recluse and live the life of a hermit; on the contrary, to mingle with men in all the legitimate affairs of life. But to keep clean of the sins of the world, lead a life of purity. A conscious relation of the individual to God and then working out that relation in human conduct. Pure religion means exalting Christ. Living up to the golden rule and then something still higher. Accept Christ into the heart and then carry forth the message.

PRINCIPALS MEET

Principal George U. Moyses of the Union High school left Sunday night for Riverside to attend the annual convention of the state association of school principals. The convention will be in session from Monday morning until Friday afternoon. Mr. Moyses will return to Glendale Friday night.

My business in life is to render a real service in

FIRE INSURANCE

HOW ABOUT YOUR FIRE INSURANCE? ARE YOU SUFFICIENTLY INSURED?

Is your home fully insured, is your furniture insured, are those furs, the family silverware, diamonds, pianos and talking machines properly insured?

Stop for a moment—
Here's What Happened Yesterday and the Day Before

TOLL OF SABBATH FLAMES
Following is a summary of the loss of life, injuries and property damage wrought yesterday in a series of fires in Los Angeles and vicinity:

Ganahl Lumber Company yard and Wohlman Manufacturing Company, Twenty-sixth and Alameda streets, one life lost, two injured, $1,000,000 property loss.

Montrose, Glendale, Eagle Rock brush fire, two dead, six seriously injured, fifty hurt, fifteen square miles burned over.

Pacific Coast Glass Works, Santa Fe avenue and Twenty-fifth street, three injured, property loss $100,000.

Bernstein No. 3 well, Signal Hill, two injured, property loss $25,000.

Palo Verde Ranch, Los Angeles Harbor, 10,000 acres swept. Brush fire at Elizabeth Lake, several hundred acres burned over.

—Los Angeles Times, Monday, Oct. 15, 1923.

Then ask yourself the question what position you would be in if a catastrophe which nearly occurred here Saturday and did happen at Berkeley a few weeks ago when 60 blocks of residences were destroyed and only 30 per cent of them covered by insurance. God grant that it will not happen here, but it can happen. Don't be caught napping, call us up, Glendale 68, and let us figure with you on your Fire Insurance.

BURBANK

BURBANK FIRE IS SOON CONTROLLED

Flames Start in Vacant Lot and Spread to House —Burbank Gossip

A fire that threatened to assume serious proportions occurred on Santa Anita avenue Saturday morning. It began in a pile of rubbish in a vacant lot opposite the home of E. F. Baumann at 622 Santa Anita avenue and spread rapidly, aided by a brisk wind.

When the engines arrived the blaze had spread to an adjoining orchard and the roof of a house belonging to J. H. Avery at 611 Providencia avenue was afire.

Fire Chief Davis, assisted by several neighbors, soon had the fire under control.

Women's Festival Success

The art section of the Women's Festival proved to be one of the most successful. Paintings, loaned by Mrs. S. T. Allen, besides other forms of art work, constituted a most interesting exhibition. Mrs. Greenman, Mrs. M. S. Jones, Mrs. J. Stoner, Mrs. H. E. Bruce, W. Lee Ray, Mrs. John W. Taylor, S. H. Noddy, Mrs. Music and Lillian Wilson were among those who contributed to the success of the display.

The Better Baby clinic at the Fall Festival proved so successful that there is much talk of making it permanent. About seventy-five babies were registered. Women who gave their time to this work were: Mesdames Ellis, H. E. Ling, J. D. Radcliff, E. J. Jackson and J. C. Oldham.

P.-T. A. Meeting

The P.-T. A. of the Joaquin Miller school will have a most interesting program Tuesday afternoon. A penny march will be a feature, the proceeds to be used for the book fund. Those who will participate in the program are: Mrs. H. B. Rodgers, Miss Elinor Bly, Mrs. Wickersham and Miss Harriet Valentine.

The first Choral club concert of the season will be given Tuesday night in the high school auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Sewell of 178 Olive avenue are the parents of a baby girl born September 29, whom they have named William Jean. Mrs. Walter Porter of Janesville, Wis., is spending some time at the Sewell home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Osterian have recently moved to Burbank and have taken up their home at 527 Olive avenue.

Dr. T. S. Montgomery of the Anti-Saloon League spoke at the Christian church Sunday night.

Next Wednesday evening the members of the Missionary society will give a mission play entitled "The Prayer That Was Answered."

EAGLE ROCK

BROTHER'S DEATH DELAYS WEDDING

Girl Attends Funeral on Day Set to Celebrate Her Nuptials

Tragic circumstances which caused an Eagle Rock girl to attend the funeral of her brother on the day she had expected to celebrate her nuptials became known yesterday.

Miss Ethelwyn Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Annie J. Taylor, of South Eagle Rock, planned to marry Homer Halberstadt, also of Eagle Rock, last Tuesday night. Arrangements for the wedding had been completed when word was received that Miss Taylor's brother Paul had died suddenly of an internal disorder at Pasadena. The day previous he had presented his sister with several gifts and expressed his wishes for her happiness.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the home of his mother. Miss Taylor stated that she did not know when the postponed wedding would take place.

To Welcome Root

The Chamber of Commerce plans a welcome home banquet in honor of its president, O. J. Root, who is expected to return to Eagle Rock October 30. Mr. and Mrs. Root have been spending the summer at Roscommon, Michigan. John T. Bailey is chairman of the committee in charge of the program.

Mrs. Jack Hendricks, 5203 North Royal drive, gave a card party last week. About thirty guests attended. Five Hundred was played. The first prize was won by Mrs. J. A. Kleins and the consolation prize by Mrs. Bennett.

Halloween Dance

Plans for the Halloween Jinx costume dance to be given by the Eagle Rock Improvement Association at R. A. McLean Motor Sales Company rooms on October 31 indicate that it is to be a live affair.

A negro orchestra will provide the "jazzy" of the music. Prizes are offered for the most original and most beautiful costumes. The committee in charge will meet Thursday night at the office of F. W. Link at Acacia and Colorado boulevards. It will arrange for the distribution of pumpkin dodgers advertising the affair to be pasted on automobiles.

The Rev. E. Morgan Isaac, pastor of the Eagle Rock Congregational church will debate some time in the near future with a representative of the Bible Students' Association upon the question: "Can the Old Testament Portrayal of God Be Accepted in the Light of Today?" The debate is the result of a challenge recently sent the society by Mr. Isaac.

Save Chobe Home

In a hand-to-hand fight with the flames at the L. W. Chobe place near Sierra avenue during the evening the home was saved, but all of outbuildings including the barn was destroyed.

Flames shooting skyward hundreds of feet presented a spectacle seldom witnessed by suburban residents. With every shift in the wind new fires started by flying brands and tears were felt for all of the foothill property in the eastern section of this city.

Fires for Life

The Louise Emerson home, another belonging to A. E. Sauter, and a house in course of construction for T. B. Nicols were damaged during the day. A ranch house in the hills was destroyed and several cabins usually unoccupied were licked up.

SEARCHING HILLS FOR NEW VICTIMS

Additional Bodies Believed to Be in Blackened Canyons Near City

(Continued from page 1) where three houses have been burned. Inceville, in Santa Monica canyon, was destroyed Saturday night, also.

Story of Saturday Night Conflagration Given

A story of the fire Saturday afternoon and evening is reprinted from The Glendale Evening News, final 11 p. m. edition, in part, as follows:

At 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon it was stemmed on the Anderson ranch, recently bought by Bert Farrar of Seattle for subdivision purposes. But this was only temporary and with a shift in the wind the flames leaped over a ridge to the south bringing it to the hillslopes of Eagle Rock. At 5 o'clock it was apparent that Eagle Rock was in the gravest danger of destruction and thousands more fire fighters were dispatched from Los Angeles.

Making a motor trip around the burning area at 8 o'clock in the evening the writer saw the licked red demon sinking its fangs into the canyons of Eagle Rock, racing like mad across the mountainous terrain toward the Annandale section of Pasadena, biting deep into the heart of the neighbor suburb.

Lures Many Motorists

Thousands upon thousands of motorists and motorists were out to view the progress of the flames. And as they watched the lurid crown of red grew greater and greater over the San Rafael hills.

The wind shifted at 8 o'clock in the evening, sending the blaze in a new direction. The heights of Sycamore canyon became a raging inferno and they soon fell prey to the worst holocaust seen in Southern California in recent years.

Shooting skyward and northward over the hills into exclusive Flintridge, the owners of exclusive homesites in that Pasadena suburb began preparing to demcamp. The men folks went to the ridge to stop the oncoming attack.

Church Is Dismissed

In Sycamore canyon during the evening there was a prospect of the Glendale Academy of the Seventh Day Adventist church, their newly erected school, being destroyed.

Elder Parmelee dismissed his congregation and in a body they hurried to the canyon where their new million dollar Glendale sanitarium plant was also in danger. It was on this battle front that local firefighters concentrated while Los Angeles came to Eagle Rock's aid with thousands of workers pressed into service.

The terrific heat was preattacking and it was impossible for the firemen to approach the blaze by a hundred yards at times. Dynamiting new firebrands failed in the desired purpose, while men and shovels were almost helpless.

Save Chobe Home

In a hand-to-hand fight with the flames at the L. W. Chobe place near Sierra avenue during the evening the home was saved, but all of outbuildings including the barn was destroyed.

Flames shooting skyward hundreds of feet presented a spectacle seldom witnessed by suburban residents. With every shift in the wind new fires started by flying brands and tears were felt for all of the foothill property in the eastern section of this city.

Fires for Life

The Louise Emerson home, another belonging to A. E. Sauter, and a house in course of construction for T. B. Nicols were damaged during the day. A ranch house in the hills was destroyed and several cabins usually unoccupied were licked up.

A Glendale public service department truck carrying supplies to the fire fighters was reported destroyed when H. E. Thompson, its driver, was trapped and had to flee for his life. Many other firemen had narrow escapes and many were taken to their homes exhausted and fatigued.

The Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital reported two victims of burns whose names were not learned, in addition to Ignacio Lucia treated earlier in the day for injuries received when he came in contact with a Southern California Edison company high tension wire.

Plenty of Thrills

Short circuits on this line disrupted service and the snapping, crashing, cracking power wires carrying heavy voltage from the high Sierras gave a thrill to those in their immediate proximity.

Tales of heroism are told. Melancton Walters of the Barum-Walters company, subdividers of Sparr Heights, leading a score of men over the hills, wielded a hand sickle with remarkable results in clearing the brush.

Ray L. Thorne of the Oakmont Saddle stables rode through the fire area on horseback to give reports to The Glendale Evening News. He also had soda water sent to the firefighters. Many householders in Sycamore canyon made lemonade and other iced drinks for the men.

Among those included in the army of fire fighters, who battled with the canyon fires Saturday and Sunday, was Bert Farrar, millionaire owner of virtually all of Sycamore canyon. While he is reported as perhaps the heaviest loser he was one of the calmest of the fighters.

Aiding greatly in the fight was Peter L. Perry, Glendale contractor, who rushed a crew of his Mexican workmen to help in fighting the fire. They did fine

BIRTHDAY PARTY FORMS SURPRISE

Fannie Tatlow Honored by Host of Friends at Oak Street Home

Miss Fannie Tatlow, 311 Oak street, was agreeably surprised on returning to her home Saturday night to find that a score of her friends had taken possession of her home and had converted the two bungalows into a fairy bower of greenery, turning the rear bungalow into a place for dancing and spreading tables for a birthday dinner in the spacious patio between the two houses.

Ralph Meyer and Louis Carey, manager of the Hotel de Luxe of Lancaster, had barbecued a juicy section of meat, and the twenty couples who sat down to the barbecue and the rest of the fixin's, in the brilliantly illuminated courtyard, enjoyed the epicurean feast that had been prepared for them.

Gilbert Wilhite of Los Angeles recited a poem which he had written especially for the occasion, and Prof. Barclay Severn of Los Angeles kept the guests amused with a lot of jokes that were new to most of those present.

Dancing Enjoyed

Dancing followed the barbecue banquet, and refreshments of punch and ice cream were served. During the evening the guests dispatched barbecue sandwiches and smoked the firefighters who were battling the flames in the Verdugo hills.

Among the guests were Margaret Fisher and Earl Hume of Fillmore, Ethel Merriken, Ernest Harpe, Lulu Robinson and George Underwood of Los Angeles, Lois Kimbel and Sylvester Garner of Sunland, Miss Leitha Colton, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Severn, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Wilhite and daughters, Andrea and Virginia of Los Angeles, Ralph Meyer, Lois Carey, Fannie and Grace Tatlow, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Tatlow.

Thieves Loot Cigar Store, Owner Claims

Nish Parsekian reported to the police department today that thieves have been entering his cigar establishment at 119 West Broadway frequently during the past two months and that his nocturnal visitors called again Sunday night, with the result that a considerable quantity of cigars, cigarettes and confectionery is missing.

The store is located at the entrance to the building and the only protection at night is an iron gate. Parsekian's theory is that the thief or thieves climb over the gate. Detective Lieutenant Royle and Police Captain Lovings are investigating the case.

Two Glendale Heroes Die Battling Flames

(Continued from page 1) age is reported to be 34 years. Mourning his tragic death are his wife and two sons, age 5 and 6 years, and his parents.

Mr. McGahan was a Mason, and his body was identified by a Royal Arch Masonic ring he wore, and by a watch he carried.

Both bodies were brought to the Kiefer & Eyerich Undertaking parlor on East Broadway and after an inquest is held funeral arrangements will be made and announced.

W. H. Reeves, city manager, this morning said that the city of Glendale would contribute liberally to the fund being raised for the families of the fire victims. "Whether the city is legally obligated or not, the people can depend upon it the municipality will not forget the families of the brave men who lost their lives."

MUST CHANGE NAME

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The Juvenile Shoe Company of California must change its name, in order to continue to do business as ordered by the federal trade commission, the supreme court of the United States decided today in refusing to review the case.

work in Kirkby canyon and later in Sycamore canyon.

Feed Thousands

The thousands of men, who so valiantly fought the raging fires on the north hills all day Saturday and through the night into the morning hours of Sunday, were sustained through their strenuous battle by periods of rest and hot coffee and sandwiches at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ludwig W. Gossman on North Sycamore canyon road.

During the day and night thirty pounds of coffee were used and between 500 and 600 loaves of bread used in sandwiches.

Lending able assistance were Mr. MacBain, grocer of 634 East Broadway, and the Tuesday Afternoon club, represented by the Parliamentary Law section, under the leadership of the curator, Mrs. C. A. Brandstater.

Hundreds of skunks driven from the hills scented the Eagle Rock section, according to reports, while boys went out and caught scared rabbits which had run themselves to a state of exhaustion.

During the afternoon and evening The Glendale Evening News answered thousands of telephone calls, giving the latest information available, and at the same time sold out of one edition after another with the first and most complete accounts of the conflagration. The fourth and final "fire extra" was issued shortly before midnight Sunday morning.

Finishing his season of practice games in a whirlwind fashion, the Glendale Union high school heavy weight football team smothered Santa Barbara's eleven Saturday afternoon on Moyle field, 68 to 0. The famed open field attack of the Mission City aggregation shattered on the perfect stone-wall defense of the local varsity. The Green and Gold made only one first down, and the Red and Black squad was never in danger except once in the last quarter, when Steiner, captain of the invaders, raced forty yards on an intercepted pass. Crow saved a touchdown by neatly leaping on the runner and crashing him back to terra firma.

Howard Elliott played good ball for Glendale, chalking up three touchdowns and converting six out of seven tries. Ryan and West each contributed a score each to the general slaughter, while Bud Elliott, Dietrich and Gingery completed the list. Captain Steiner was by far the best player on the visiting team, his punting, passing and running forcing the locals to fight hard all the time. The dope favored the Red and Black to win by three touchdowns, but they succeeded in piling up ten.

MERCHANTS' ASSN. CONTRIBUTES $100

Business Men Hasten to Aid Families Bereaved by Verdugo Hills Fire

The Glendale Merchants' association, at its weekly meeting in Jensen's Egyptian Village at noon today, voted to contribute $100 to the relief fund that is being raised for the families of the men who lost their lives in fighting the fire in the Verdugo Hills Saturday.

President Owen C. Emery raised the question as to whether the members of the association favored closing their establishments on Armistice Day, November 11, but H. S. Webb, of Webb's Dry Goods store, and H. M. Butts, of the Monarch Auto Supply Co., opposed the suggestion, as did several others, on the ground that there are too many holidays now. No vote was taken on the question nor was any definite decision reached.

A list of the names of bad check passers who have been working in this vicinity was read, and the members were urged to be on guard against persons who were not properly identified attempting to cash checks in local establishments.

At the roll call, each member of the association arose in his place and gave his name and business, a feature that is to be made a regular part of the association's meetings.

The business program was closely followed by the large number of the members present at the luncheon.

Music Club Oratorio Section Meet Tuesday

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music club, announces the first meeting of the oratorio section for tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock in the music room of the Glendale Union High school.

John Smallman, vocalist and director, of Los Angeles, who is to direct the chorus, will be present and decision will be made as to the first oratorio to be taken up.

Glendale kicked. Santa Barbara punt. Glendale's ball. Score end of first half, 41-0, favor of Glendale.

Third Quarter
An entirely new team composed of Philipps, Fannon, Offutt, Dietrich, Crow, Gingery, Fitts, Weaver and Brodner went in at the beginning of this half. Glendale kicked. Santa Barbara fumbled and Dietrich scooped up the ball and went for a touchdown. Dietrich converted. Glendale kicked. Santa Barbara had a pass intercepted by Dietrich. Gingery made a touchdown. Crow converted. Glendale kicked. Santa Barbara punt. Glendale made yards. Denny made 20 yards on a pass. Santa Barbara got the ball. Glendale's fumble, but punted later. Glendale made yards.

COMMENT That's All

Glendale Grief Stricken City Should Be Thankful Lessons Learned From Fire Ford's Advertising Bill

By Gil A. Cowan

Bowed in grief over the heroic death of two of its citizens this city has cause to reverently give thanks that its salvation Saturday night from flames was due to the almost superhuman sacrifice on the part of thousands of fire fighters.

It was a real conflagration, the danger and scope of which was little realized by the residents of Glendale and Eagle Rock until night fell and revealed a spectacle of literal mountains of fire. Like the fire at Inceville in Santa Monica canyon at the same time, and the lumber yards fire in southeast Los Angeles last night, the sky was well lighted.

And toward the flames it seemed that half of the population of the county came in motor cars. Traffic was stalled. Additional firemen were hindered in their hurry to the scene and, in brief, everything was badly balled up. There are lessons to be learned from every disaster, however, and here is one:

Trained fire fighters to lead the gangs of workmen are absolutely essential and they should be available on short notice. It was not until late in the day that the Glendale department, assisted by state and federal foresters, were able to organize the combative efforts.

This is no criticism of Fire Chief Lankford and his men. All of them fought heroically, at times trapped with their chemical wagons beside burning homes. Their number was far too small for the ferocity of the flames.

To revert to another lesson, it was clearly demonstrated that Glendale's police department is undermanned to meet an emergency. Police Chief Fraser had all of his men on duty, yet it was necessary for public-spirited citizens like V. M. Hollister to desert places of business to afford protection.

And, we might prattle on, telling of the difficulties encountered. Action, not words, is now necessary. Another such fire and Glendale may be another Berkeley. Indeed, we might tritely say that the Southern California Edison company deserves many thanks for taking the initiative in sending nearly 500 men to the scene.

Advertising for Henry Ford is going to be done on a lavish scale this coming year. Here is what the Fourth Estate has to say on the subject:

From every Ford car, Fordson tractor and Lincoln car sold during the year 1924 the sum of $4 is to be pooled into the largest advertising pot in the records of industrial advertising.

On the basis of Ford production at present the fund may exceed $8,000,000, for Ford Motor company salesmen expect the sales for 1924 Ford products to reach over 2,000,000 this year.

No definite plans for placing this huge advertising have been announced. Henry Ford has said nothing concerning the program and none of his executives have been quoted.

The mere announcement from Detroit that the Ford Motor company would spend some $8,000,000 in advertising next year met conjecture everywhere from open disbelief to a theory that the advertising would considerably enhance Ford's chances for the presidency.

Sufficient verification of the Ford company's intention to enter the advertising field on a large scale has been published to warrant the statement that newspapers from the largest city daily to the humble weekly will be relied upon to carry the brunt of the Ford copy.

It is further established that Ford dealers are likely to profit handsomely from the venture, because the new Ford copy will be carried over their names. It is pointed out that these dealers will be asked to split with the company on a fifty-fifty basis, half of the $4 per car or tractor coming from their side of the revenue.

The copy will liberally direct attention to Henry Ford, his policies, his ideals and his business practices and to his products, which include the Ford car, the Fordson tractor and the Lincoln car.

Not a little interest is being expressed in the Lincoln car advertising, which is expected to run up daily sales of more than 500. It is less than half that total today.

Besides, it is pointed out, the competition among smaller cars makes it necessary to protect constant demand for Ford cars by nationwide advertising. Plans already are under way to bring out a new Ford model in the event that smaller rivals continue to eat into the Ford field.

Thoughtful advertising men incline to the view that the huge advertising fund is primarily a merchandising undertaking and that there is little, if any, political elements in its appearance in 1924, although its results in a political way are not likely to be hindered.

GLOVE SLINGERS READY FOR GONG

Jim Jeffries Will Referee Main Event on Marston Program Tuesday

All the leather pushers who have been dated up for the fracas at the Hahn auditorium, 109 North Broadway, for tomorrow night, will be on hand as scheduled, according to Lester Marston, the promoter, and the fans are promised an evening of entertainment that will make the Yankee-Giant imbroglio back east look like a pink tea.

One of the high lights of the evening will be the appearance of James J. Jeffries, former heavyweight champion, as the third man in the ring during the bout between Eddy Byrd of Glendale and Andy McLaughlin of Burbank, who will mingle in the main event. The other bouts will be refereed by Chick Watson, who filled the same position at the recent American Legion bouts.

Jimmy Berry of Pasadena will meet Battling Ward of Lankershim in the semi-final, at 130 pounds. Ward claims the San Fernando Valley title at that weight.

Another Glendale fighter dated up for the show is Pete Essick, who meets Kid Williams of Lankershim. These boys have boxed two draws and each is sure that he will win handily tomorrow night.

In the early events of the evening Jim Racer and Knockout Chano will swap punches. Young Sales and Lou Garcia will tangle at 115 pounds, and Kid Payo will battle Jack Carr at 170 pounds.

The postoffice band will furnish the music before the bouts start.

CHURCHES ATTACK U. S. DRY POLICY

Official Washington Under Fire; President Urged to Lead Battle

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The "citizenship" conference, called here by the Organized Churches of America, developed today in an organized assault upon the policy of the federal government in enforcement of the dry laws.

On top of the flaming speeches made Sunday by Governor Gifford Pinchot, in which he charged that the seat of opposition to prohibition is right here in the national capital, here came before the conference today the Rev. Charles R. Zahniser, executive secretary of the Pittsburgh Council of Churches.

Dr. Zahniser joined with Governor Pinchot in calling for a show-down from Washington officials. They joined in "inviting" President Coolidge to assume personal command of the situation and suppress the 1923 "whiskey rebellion," even as did George Washington. The invitation only lightly concealed an outright challenge to the White House.

The mere announcement from Detroit that the Ford Motor company would spend some $8,000,000 in advertising next year met conjecture everywhere from open disbelief to a theory that the advertising would considerably enhance Ford's chances for the presidency.

Sufficient verification of the Ford company's intention to enter the advertising field on a large scale has been published to warrant the statement that newspapers from the largest city daily to the humble weekly will be relied upon to carry the brunt of the Ford copy.

K. C. NINE BEATS HOFFMAN TEAM

Ninth Inning Batting Rally Snatches Victory by One Run Margin

The Glendale Knights of Columbus defeated the Paul G. Hoffman nine of Los Angeles, one of the strongest teams in the semi-pro ranks, by 6 to 5 yesterday at the local grounds, Park avenue and San Fernando road, in a game that was full of thrills and exciting plays from the start until the winning run was brought across in the ninth inning, by a terrific batting rally, when H. Doll, after Bacon had singled, brought him home with the tying score with a screaming triple, and R. Doll put the winning run across with a slashing double to right.

Bacon pitched a masterly game, striking out ten of the Hoffmans. The catching and battling of Peroni, as well as the hitting of H. Doll and Farnet, were the outstanding features of the game.

The K. C. boys are putting up a splendid article of ball having met the very best teams in the semi-pro ranks, losing only five games.

Legion Opens Great Convention in Frisco

pouring in from all over the country are many of curious design and mottoes suggestive of "over there."

Los Angeles will be the 1924 rendezvous for the Ninety-first division, it was decided by the old gang yesterday on the sixth ballot, in a fight with Butte and Portland. Frank P. Doherty of Los Angeles was chosen president of the outfit.

Fight on Klan and Air Disarmament Plan

By C. C. BURG
For International News Service
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—As the American legion launched its fifth annual convention here today it became apparent that attacks on the Ku Klux Klan will be one of the features of the veteran's meeting.

Wilbur Brocker, Michigan legionnaire, prepared to lead the fight on the Klan with a resolution calling upon the legion to repudiate "such organizations." While not directly mentioning the Klan by name in his resolution, Brocker was frank in stating that he had it in mind.

"We repudiate any such organization that attempts to claim 100 per cent Americanism with the mask as a means of hiding its identity," he said.

Indications were that the biggest fight of the convention will be waged over Commander Owsley's air disarmament plan. It was reported today that Past Commander Hanford MacNider would lead the fight against the Owsley plan.

Frank Miles, editor of the Iowa legion paper, said today that the Iowa and middle western delegations and some of the eastern delegations were strongly opposed to the air disarmament plan.

TROJANS DEFEAT NEVADA, 33 TO 0

University of Southern California Has Arrived, Says News' Sporting Scribe

By DOC M'GILLIS
Of The Evening News Staff

The Trojans have arrived! "Gloomy Gus" Henderson, coach and official strategist of the University of Southern California, arrived in Glendale Saturday afternoon, and showed the wide world that his 1923 gridiron entry is one of the most powerful in the West. In trimming the fast University of Nevada eleven, 33 to 0, the Cardinal and Gold warriors of the U. S. C. displayed as much class as anyone might desire to witness.

The score falls far short of telling the relative strengths of the two aggregations. Henderson's regular squad being able to cross the Blue and White goal line almost at will. During the first eight minutes of the third quarter, during which time the Trojans' first string was going at full blast, three touchdowns were accounted for, and none of them were "flukes," either, the southerners' terrific driving power proving too much for their plucky opponents. Had the regular line-up been used throughout the contest, the final count would easily have been doubled.

Now to get to the game: The opening whistle found but one regular player, Norman "Swede" Anderson, appearing on the field. With this combination of second and third-string material facing them, the press-agented Nevada Wolves were doped to have things their own way.

Anderson changed things. But after twenty minutes of play the two teams were playing at a standstill with a 0-to-0 score. At this point "Swede" Anderson was joined by his ten varsity playmates, and the tide of battle was changed. After a few minutes the new combination gained the ball on the U. S. C. twenty-yard line, and the procession was on. The quarter ended with the Trojans putting over the first score of the game. The last half was nothing more than an exhibition of the Cardinal and Gold's almost perfect attack. A switch back to a partial second team and a ten-minute fourth quarter prevented a larger score.

In Gordon Campbell U. S. C. may well be proud of claiming one of the most valuable backfield men ever seen on a Pacific coast eleven. When he broke into the Trojan line-up two years ago Campbell was considered an average player. Since that time he has improved with every game, which "includes" practically every U. S. C. contest in more than two seasons. As a shift-off open-field runner he has few equals, his half-back work and punting twisting tactics often resulting in gains of from twenty to fifty yards. Captain Don Nichols of California will have a full day's job on his hands on the afternoon of November 10 if he's to be the leading star of the Bear-train.

Although Campbell is the star of the backfield, he is by no means the whole Cardinal and Gold offense.

Led by Captain Chet Dolley, the Methodists should be more than able to hold their own in advancing the oval with men like "Chief" Newman, "Houk" Le Febre, Riddle, Otto Anderson, Harold Adams and a number of others. Newman has already proved himself as good behind the lines as he was on the forward wall last year—and he was no slouch as a line-man. His demonstration of accurate forward passing against Nevada Saturday was worth the price of admission alone, while his interference and defensive work caused the most ardent U. S. C. rooters to feel considerably less worried over "Hobo" Kincaid's absence from this year's squad.

Words of praise might be given the performance of every Trojan in the Nevada contest, but for lack of space we'll say that Andy Smith and his Golden Tornado from Berkeley will have to be at their best to come out on top in the "Battle of the Year" at the Coliseum November 10.

Starts Lecture Course on Book of Genesis

Rev. Keith L. Brooks began a series of Bible lectures on the opening chapters of the book of Genesis, Sunday morning in the city council rooms where he speaks regularly to the Brother-hood class of the Presbyterian church. Mr. Brooks declared that perfect harmony would be found between the plain statements of the original scriptures, and all assured facts of geology. He stated that Christianity needs to be saved from some of the interpretations which theologians have given these chapters in their efforts to reconcile Genesis with the ever-changing theories of scientists.

Among other things he said: "You have heard much about Genesis in the light of modern thought. I wish to approach it from the opposite standpoint and talk to you about modern thought in the light of Genesis. There are two books in the Bible that the great enemy of souls hates, namely, the first and last, and he seeks to have these books discredited, since they reveal so much about his subtlety, downfall, and doom, and about God's great redemption plan, and its consummation."

Smaller Parts Are Essential in Successful Drama

Efficient leadership is essential to the success of any movement but co-operation and teamwork among the workers are just as necessary. On the stage of life only a few have star parts, the most of us are extras or supers but we are needed to bring the play to the proper climax.

In the movement of Community Development, sponsored by those whose names appear on this page, every citizen is indispensable. It isn't necessary to stand in the spotlight and display great ability in order to have an important part. The supers are all-important in this play.

If every citizen should take the pledge of Community Loyalty every effort that is being made for a Greater Glendale might cease, the movement would accomplish its purpose automatically. For that is all that is needed to build a Greater Glendale—Community Loyalty and Co-operation.

And, so little effort is required of us. Glendale has a good name, morally, financially and numerically and it is easy to be proud of our citizenship. It doesn't cost anything to become interested in civic problems and to lend our influence toward their right solution. It doesn't take much time to speak cordially and kindly to the visitor or stranger or to tell about Glendale's advantages as a Home City whenever the opportunity presents.

And, surely it requires no effort to patronize Glendale Merchants. The effort and expense come in going out of town to do our buying.

These are all small items, little things all can do. If your time, your talent and your means are limited, you can still have a part in building a Greater Glendale simply by being loyal to your city.

It is the Great Majority of Glendale's citizenship that has brought her thus far on her way toward the ideal city and it is this same group possessed of the virtue of Community Loyalty and working together that must achieve further greatness for Glendale.

THIS page appears in The Glendale Evening News once a week. On another page is a classified index which explains the location of the cards on this page. The building of a greater community sentiment is the purpose of this page. Co-operation between the merchant and the buyer put into actual practice is a community builder.

OWSLEY OUTLINES LEGION AIMS IN FAREWELL ADDRESS

Plea For Saner Education, Governor Richardson Praised By Occidental Women's Dean

"Let us get away from this hop, skip and jump method of education. Let us as college and university women work for a readjustment of education to modern conditions. Let us not close our eyes to the situation."

"Our educational system from the lowest grade to the final courses in colleges and universities is under fire. The amount of money spent in the schools is not producing the right results."

"I heartily favor Governor Richardson's cut in the state school budget. It was in response to the great ground swell of protest. It wasn't politics. And what if it were, politics comes in return to votes. I commend to your attention and support the two big measures endorsed at the summer international meeting of the American Association of University Women at Portland, Ore. First, the great policy to further world peace; and, second, a five-year program to readjust elementary school education."

Dean at Occidental

These were a few of the outstanding thoughts brought to members of the Glendale College Women's club Saturday afternoon by Dr. Irene Myers, graduate of Yale university and dean of women at Occidental college.

Dean Myers' inspiring address held the attention of the college women for over an hour, and in addition to being able to recognize the event as the finest program the club has ever enjoyed the club members were greatly gratified over receiving an application for membership in the Glendale club from their honored guest.

Fifty Members Present

There were fifty college and university women gathered around the luncheon tables in the banquet room of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse for "Occidental College Day," the opening meeting of the club year.

The Occidental colors, orange and black, were much in evidence, and the feature of the table appointments was a mysterious black and orange crepe paper bell placed in front of the plate of Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, club president. She was instructed on a tiny card to "unveil the statue" at the end of the first course, and upon following this hint, she brought to view a unique doll figure, gaily clad in a suit of blue and white, designated as "Co-ed," the mascot of the club.

All Introduced

During the luncheon hour each woman stood and gave her name and college or university; the members of the board of directors were introduced; a report made by Mrs. C. H. Crawford on collection of salvage for the Children's Hospital, stating that a collection bag will be located at the public library this coming week; a reading of the proposed amendments to the by-laws by Miss Ida Myers; announcement that the next meeting of the club will be "Pomona

Allen Answers Pinchot Challenge on Drying America

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, was severely criticized today by Ex-Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, for his sensational speech of Sunday before the dry conference here in which he challenged President Coolidge to take permanent command of the prohibition enforcement measures.

"The governor of Pennsylvania," said the ex-governor of Kansas, "should watch his own fences." "If I were governor of a commonwealth," said Allen, "and there was a city in that commonwealth which openly defied me with the dictum that its saloons would not close, that city would wake up next morning to the sound of bugles, its citizens would go to bed to the music of 'taps' and troops would remain there until the law was obeyed."

Allen had reference to the situation in Philadelphia, where Governor Pinchot recently tried unsuccessfully to close the city's 1,300 saloons.

College Day," the first Saturday in November.

The club took action heartily endorsing the stand taken by Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs, in support of the Constitution, particularly the Eighteenth Amendment. A resolution is to be drawn up to this effect and sent to Mrs. Toll.

Mrs. Cotton Sings

One of the entertainment pleasures of the afternoon was a group of songs by Mrs. John W. Cotton, talented contralto, accompanied by Miss Gladys Sharpe. Mrs. Cotton sang beautifully "A Caravan From China," a poem by Le Gallien, music by McManus; "The Delight of the Out of Doors," by Gertrude Ross; "Si Mes Vers Avaient des Ailes," words by Victor Hugo, translated by Baker, music by Reynaldo Hahn; "Misgiving" (Osborne-Black).

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames C. B. Andrews, Ann Elwood, Evelyn Labadie and Miss Bessie Field.

150,000 VETERANS AT SAN FRANCISCO

Bootlegging of Immigrants Into U. S. Told Legion by James J. Davis

By C. C. BURG
For International News Service
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—

Veterans of St. Mihiel, Chateau Thierry and Argonne, the unsung heroes of 1917 training camps and warriors of the sea went over the top under a barrage of San Francisco's hospitality this morning in opening the fifth annual convention of the American Legion. With delegates from every state and territory in the Union and from many foreign countries in attendance, more than 150,000 visitors were in the city for the week's festivities.

Twenty thousand Pacific coast fleet sailors and thousands of members of various branches of the war department forces in the west joined San Francisco residents in welcoming the delegates.

While National Commander Alvin Owsley of Texas was calling the convention to order this morning, plans were being made for the opening of sessions of the American Legion auxiliary and La Societe Des 40 Hommes Et 8 Chevaux the "mystic shrine" of the Legion, both organizations opening their convalescence today.

Secretary of Labor Speaks
Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, addressing the Legion today, made a strong plea for a system of selected immigration and in the absence of such a system an absolute bar against immigration.

He declared that the "bootlegging" of immigrants into the United States had reached an amazing stage in which every possible means, including airplanes, is being utilized to bring them into the United States.

"I favor a selective system of immigration," he told the convention, "and if we cannot have selected immigration, I would have none." Secretary Davis said that he favored immigration based on three points:

First—Examination of every prospective immigrant before he leaves his native land.

Second—Granting of power to United States consuls abroad to refuse to give passports to ineligible immigrants.

Third—Enrollment of every alien on arrival and an annual census of all aliens over a period of five years with deportation of those found to be in America, illegally, or for unlawful purposes.

Fight on Klan

Indications at the opening of the convention today were that a fight upon the Ku Klux Klan would prove a big issue before the veterans. Echoes of the attack to be launched upon the Klan were heard everywhere in the corridors of the convention hall and various factions were

Kirk Loses Money And Sleep Seeing Beach at Ostend

The Glendale Evening News readers will be pleased today to continue their foreign studies in a letter from W. B. Kirk, dated from The Hague, Holland. Glendadians, who are getting foreign glimpses through Mr. Kirk's letters, are being privileged to follow interesting foreign travel and are unanimous in their appreciation of this opportunity offered by The Glendale Evening News. Mr. Kirk begins his letter today with a description of Ostend, Belgium.

"The Hague, Holland, September 15.—Wanting to see a little more of Belgium we went to Ostend on Wednesday afternoon. It is the swell bathing resort of Belgium as well as being quite a favorite with the English, as it is a refined, quiet place and is only two or three hours from Dover by fast mail boat.

"Next morning we had a London paper at 8 o'clock, delivered by airplane. It certainly has a beautiful beach which extends for eight or ten miles south of the harbor, along which face splendid hotels and apartments of four and five stories, in solid blocks, for a long distance. They would be a credit to any city, all of brick and stone, with bay and grill windows. (They don't seem to use any concrete in Europe.)

"It took us nearly five hours, on the fast Paris-Amsterdam express to come from Brussels here, a distance of less than 100 miles, principally on account of delay for inspection on both sides of the border.

"While Belgium and Holland require no visas and Belgium has no limit as to the length of your stay, the Dutch stamp your passports and limit your stay to eight days.

"We came through the large cities of Antwerp and Rotterdam on the way, in each of which we could see some of the harbor and shipping, and crossed a wide inlet at the mouth of the Rhine. The countryside in Holland looked no different from that in Belgium and France, except that the fields are usually separated by very narrow canals, which serve to restrain the livestock and act as drainage in this wet country, which is all below the level of the sea.

"Each field or pasture is small in size. They are surely intensive farmers. There are some larger canals in Rotterdam and here, in which are moved barges, principally used to transport peat for fuel from north of Holland."

In Mr. Kirk's next letter he will tell of his stay in Holland.

O. A. Alsbaugh, Ohio Realty Man, Now Here

O. A. Alsbaugh and family, formerly of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, arrived here last week and have settled here permanently having purchased a residence at 448 Salem street, this city. Mr. Alsbaugh is a native Ohio son and has been a resident of that state all his life, having been teacher, merchant, and for the past ten years actively engaged in the real estate business in the Buckeye state.

The Alsbaugh family first came to San Francisco, then on to Los Angeles, and, after looking the field over, decided that Glendale offered the best opportunities as a desirable residence city as well as the most favorable outlook for business and are already boosters for "the fastest growing city in America."

Mr. Alsbaugh has entered the office of H. L. Miller Co., at 109 South Brand boulevard, and will at once enter the real estate business as salesman for that local firm.

Spirit of Church Is Rev. Kringle's Theme

"The Spirit of the Church" was the topic of the sermon yesterday morning at the Zion Lutheran church.

The sermon was based upon the conversion of Saul, who became the Apostle Paul. This occurred while he was on the high road to Damascus, a bitter enemy of Christ and the Christians. Suddenly he was enveloped in a heavenly light and he heard a voice saying: "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?"

"Who art thou, Lord?" he asked.

The Lord answered: "I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest."

In a tremulous voice Saul inquired: "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?"

"In that hour of mercy," remarked Rev. Henry O. Kringle, "Saul became a Christian, an ardent follower of Christ, a fearless witness of the world-saving cross of Him whom he had formerly persecuted. As his body and soul have now been consecrated to the cause of Christ, he is ready to do unflinchingly the Lord's bidding."

Work Topic of Sermon at Pacific Ave. M. E.

"The people had a mind to work" was the text of the sermon yesterday morning at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church.

"The completion of a great task is thus summed up," remarked Rev. H. C. Mullen, "namely, the rebuilding of the walls of ancient Jerusalem. This is the obvious explanation of the human side—the resolute purpose of the people carried into action. Such determination joined with the help of heaven can accomplish whatever is humanly possible to do."

"What worthwhile attempt is there which does not, sooner or later meet with a like reception at the hands of hostile and unsympathetic men. Make a new start in life, build a noble character, attempt a great and necessary work for God and somewhere along the path of years you will be scorned and opposed."

However, he who receives his orders, as did Nehemiah, from on high, will not be turned from the purpose of his life by opposition. If God writes the program of a man's life, he can well afford to obey orders though all the world ridicule."

America Must Either Work For Peace or Be Prepared To Fight, Declares Colonel

By International News Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—"Consistent progress toward a better state for our sick and disabled comrades; a justifiable prediction of the passage of the adjusted compensation bill by the next congress," and the prospect of a "permanent endowment for decoration of graves in foreign lands," were a few of the achievements of the American Legion in the last year pointed out by National Commander Alvin Owsley in his farewell address to his comrades at the fifth annual convention here today. Colonel Owsley's tenure of the national command automatically terminates this year.

Owsley designated as the primary objects toward which he has striven as the head of the Legion "Hospitalization, Rehabilitation, Adjusted Compensation and Americanization."

He reiterated his previously expressed conviction that an international conference for the limitation of air armament is essential to the future peace of the world, saying:

"America must either work for peace or prepare for war." At the same time he urged continuance of the Legion's support of a "conservative and adequate policy of national defense."

He said, in part:

"I bring you today a message filled with enthusiasm; a statement of accomplishment by posts, departments and the national organization in which we can take pride; the assurance of duty conscientiously performed; a declaration of hope and courage; a vision into the future that is radiant and inspiring."

"Speaking to the delegates assembled in New Orleans as the newly-elected national commander, I then committed the Legion under my leadership to four comprehensive principles of endeavor:

Outlines Policies
"Hospitalization, Rehabilitation, Adjusted Compensation and Americanization. These terms have had a real and distinct meaning to our Legion this year, and the efforts of all Legionnaires, I believe have been bent toward pushing forward to success the activities necessary to obtain results."

"The separate reports of department heads are prepared and open for your reception and examination. They appear, to me, to speak of a consistent progress toward a better state for our sick and disabled comrades; a justifiable prediction of the passage of the Adjusted Compensation bill by the next Congress, and the inauguration of a patriotic Ameri-

Bossing Legion Not Easy Task, Says Commander

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—The job of commanding the American Legion is no sinecure, it would appear from the world of Alvin Owsley, who delivered his farewell speech to the Legion here today.

In referring to the international scope of Legion activities, Owsley said: "Not only has the force of the Legion been proclaimed throughout every state of the Union, but in the lands of Cuba and Panama and on foreign soil at London Paris, Brussels and in Germany, in the Ruhr, wherever there was a listening ear, whenever time and a much overworked body and mind permitted, the presence of your national commander was given."

Owsley expressed his appreciation of the relief from these multitudinous duties afforded by the national vice-commanders.

can discussion and leadership on matters of national education, respect for our flag, veteran unemployment, permanent endowment for decoration of graves in foreign lands, an understanding of a business conception of the Legion's opportunity of educating and protecting the orphan children of service men; the announcement and introduction to the nation and to the world of the Legion's advocacy of an international conference for the limitation of air armament—placing our

The Growing of Walnuts in the Pacific-Southwest

WALNUT trees are thought to have been brought to California by the Mission Fathers, but plantings were not extensive until after 1849—the year of the gold rush.

This industry has grown rapidly. The Pacific-Southwest is now producing 97 per cent of this nation's crop. Last year's production was valued at $11,500,000. The present bearing acreage is 56,810, confined almost entirely to four counties, Orange, Los Angeles, Ventura, and Santa Barbara. There are at present 13,770 non-bearing acres. Plantings continue.

The industry's co-operative marketing organization, the California Walnut Growers' Association, handled four-fifths of last year's crop.

Through the co-operative features of its inter-community system and the local management and understanding in each of the localities served, the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings Bank has been able to render an unusually broad and constructive service to the agricultural producers of the Pacific-Southwest.

There is no mystery about that modern magic by which the old-fashioned house becomes up-to-date. All you need do is wish for a pretty, cheerful home. The magic potion that will transform your home has already been mixed. It is

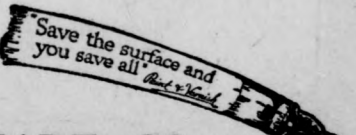

BASS-HUETER Paint and Varnish

Before you are ready to paint, you may wish to do some remodeling, for the old family home, endeared by many associations, is not always comfortably arranged. You can safely cut a window here and there, add a breakfast room, or remove cramping partitions, as paint will cover up all trace of alterations. Then, even though the woodwork has been dark, it can be modernized with Gold Seal Enamel. In kitchen and bath, Satin Egg-Shell Finish will give you walls that will wash, while Lustrelac changes your old painted floors into hardwood. For the exterior, Bass-Hueter Pure Mixed Paint will complete the magic.

When paint has transformed the old house, you'll say "My wish has come true! I've a new home—a Bass-Hueter home—at only a fraction of what it would have cost to build."

Send for our free booklet "Paint Facts" or "The Way to Beautiful Homes." It shows how paint combinations can be used to give your house the appearance of a modern home.

TODAY—Real Bohemian New York; Jews Form Kosher Chain.

By GEORGE T. HOOK
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—In addition to its Little Italy, Ghetto and Chinatown, New York has a real, colorful Bohemia which in every respect outshines, or "out-Bohemians," the sham section, miles removed from it in actual distance and mode of living, and which is better classified by prefixing "Ho" to the bohemia.

Beginning at Sheridan Square in the lower part of Manhattan and extending for a number of blocks east, south and west, is the Bohemia with which most visitors to the metropolis are fairly familiar. This section is all make-believe, a commercial Bohemia to attract the presence, patronage and pennies of the curious and wayward. Its habitues are no more Bohemian than its residents and promoters. It is "Hobo-Bohemia."

But in the upper East Side, starting at Fifty-ninth street and thinning out in the Eighties, with Third avenue and the East river as its other boundaries, there is a true Bohemia, with its picturesque inhabitants, real Bohemians, natives of Czechoslovakia—the original Bohemia.

An excursion into it is a revelation. There is no mistaking the motley-shawled women, beautiful, by complexioned girls and oftentimes gypsy-garbed children. The shops and places of entertainment reek of the "old country." Names are unpronounceable tongue-twisters, and the languages spoken are for the most part Czech and Magyar. The younger generation, of course, are sufficiently Americanized to speak English—or perhaps it would be more appropriate to say speak New York.

This bona-fide Bohemia is a delightful slum, clean and intent upon its own business. It doesn't smell of pickles, like the Ghetto; of garlic, like the Italian quarter; or of garbage, like both. You can walk around in it without being overcome by flagrant odors or lack of conventions.

The atmosphere of this colony is distinctly Bohemian of the romantic type and is attracting ambitious young artists. Here, where it is possible to live on $10 a week, they manage to get along without commercializing their souls.

Little Czechoslovakia is a model segment of the fantastic Old World.

To defeat the fraudulent motives of unscrupulous members of their own sect who are taking improper advantage of the religious precepts which the orthodox are bound to observe, Jews of the Bronx have organized a corporation which now operates a chain of ten kosher shops.

Explaining the purpose of the corporation, its president, Rabbi J. Neulander, of the Cheva Bachurin Temple, said: "It is common knowledge that over half of the Jewish butchers in the city are selling ordinary meat as kosher meat and demanding kosher prices. The faithful are being cheated, and to eliminate this the corporation was formed. We do not want to see the orthodox Jews imposed upon because of their adherence to religious teachings."

Electric-sign advertising in the "White Light" section of Broadway is valued high. Nightly a fortune is consumed by the myriad lights. But the message has been flashed to thousands, and the advertisers eventually reap the benefit.

The value of electric-sign space in this gay section of the metropolis is saliently exemplified by the fact that the entire second floor of the Broadway Claridge hotel, in the Times Square district, has been leased to a sign company, which is now erecting a huge sign on the Broadway side of the floor. The rental price has not been revealed, but it will undoubtedly pay the entire rent of the floor, plus what can be obtained for the floor space, which can be utilized for storage purposes.

This is true of several buildings in the Times Square section. It has been found more profitable to block off the light and air of the floors above the street level and rent them as electric sign space than rent the floor space for commercial use.

CROWD CALLS HIM 'KING'

Rupprecht Is Playing Shrewd Waiting Game

Crown Prince Rupprecht and his wife. The prince is playing a waiting game in politics

The populace of Munich raised a shout heard around Europe a few days ago when they hailed Crown Prince Rupprecht as "King of Bavaria." European political students see in Rupprecht's "receptive" favorite son attitude a shrewd game which he believes will land him on the Bavarian throne when the monarchists there gain control. Both Rupprecht and his young Luxemburg princess-wife are extremely popular.

Timely Views on World Topics

"ECONOMIC WELFARE NECES-SITATES UNITED STATES IN EUROPE," SAYS BRITON

The United States inevitably must be drawn into European affairs, if not now in the interest of humanity, then ultimately for her own economic welfare, declared Sir Arthur Balfour, president of the British Chamber of Commerce and world manufacturer of steel, before returning to England.

Sir Arthur's statement completely seconded the sentiments expressed by Lord Birkenhead at Williamsstown.

Questioned on a number of topics having to do with the European impasse, he said Poincare's last note contained the greatest advance yet offered for the solution of world problems. That advance he thought to be the suggestion that the allies might together seize the German customs, thus assuring payment of interest on German reparations. This is a real step forward and out of the mess, said Sir Arthur, and is the point on which to focus in a reply.

"Germany can pay about $2,000,000,000," he said. "This is far below Poincare's demand and above the Cuno offer, which Chancellor Stresemann has stood by."

"But Germany can pay nothing on her debt for four years at least, and in the meantime all that may be done is to collect the interest by collecting customs duties, for example."

"You cannot isolate any great state without affecting the economic welfare of the rest of the world. Modern civilization is so constituted that nations are interdependent. If you shut off one market source of supply other markets are affected, so that ultimately you get a vicious circle. It is not improbable that future European conflicts will draw us into another war unless a settlement is made now."

"It is useless to talk in vague terms about America joining the League of Nations or the World Court. Even if she did that would be no guarantee that the economic illness of Europe would be cured. What is wanted is a general demand in this country that American genius should concentrate on this problem and evolve a remedy backed up by politics and industry alike."

Referring to the Ruhr problem and Franco-German relations, General Allen expressed the belief that France was willing to listen to America, and that the time was ripe for American intervention in the Ruhr.

The near-sighted man and his wife were inspecting the latest art exhibition with critical care, says the Bison (U. of Buffalo).

"That's the ugliest portrait I've ever seen," he cried, angrily, striving for a better view of the abomination.

"Come away, you fool!" replied his wife. "You are looking at yourself in a mirror."

When a fellow ups and spends a dime or so to dose his ills, if, perchance, it's influenza, He can't cure it with his pills.

"TIME RIFE FOR AMERICA TO INTERVENE IN EUROPE"

America must no longer hold aloof from participation in a general attempt to end the economic convulsion of Central Europe, according to Major General Henry T. Allen, who commanded the American Army in Occupation in the Rhineland after the Armistice.

"It is unthinkable that we should pursue a policy of aloofness," said General Allen recently, "when at present we are financially and industrially the foremost nation."

I have been compiling statistical and other matter which bears out the contention that the economic ills of Central Europe will become the economic ills of the whole world, particularly of the United States.

Twenty per cent of what we produce must be exported. Europe is our largest market. The economic upheaval in Europe affects this country directly and indirectly, since the relations of other countries trading with Germany, France and Italy are disturbed, and, in turn, our relations with them are disturbed. Our trade with South America is an example.

"You cannot isolate any great state without affecting the economic welfare of the rest of the world. Modern civilization is so constituted that nations are interdependent. If you shut off one market source of supply other markets are affected, so that ultimately you get a vicious circle. It is not improbable that future European conflicts will draw us into another war unless a settlement is made now."

"It is useless to talk in vague terms about America joining the League of Nations or the World Court. Even if she did that would be no guarantee that the economic illness of Europe would be cured. Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE TREE TOAD
Once upon a time the Woolzie Wolf knocked at the door of the den where lived the Fuzzy Fox. "My goodness!" barked the Fox as he opened the door. "You are getting very polite all of a sudden! What's the idea?" "I thought perhaps you might have company," growled the Wolf, and then, finding there was no company in the den of the Fox, the Wolf didn't act polite any more. Some folks are that way. "I came over to tell you a new way to catch Uncle Wiggily," growled the Wolf. "How?" asked the Fox. "We've tried every way I know and none has been of any use."

"This time we'll catch him," went on the Wolf. "I have old Hoo Hoo, the owl, to help us. 'What good can that owl bird do?'" asked the Fox.

"He can see in the dark much better than you and I," spoke the Wolf. "Hoo Hoo, the owl, is going to perch in a tree near Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow. Whenever Uncle Wiggily goes out after dark, as he is sure to do sooner or later, Hoo Hoo, the owl, will fly and tell us. Then we can race through the dark woods and catch that rabbit before he knows it."

"Maybe we can and maybe we can't," whined the Fox. "However, we'll try it."

So Hoo Hoo, the owl, took his place in a tree outside the hollow stump bungalow.

"Where are you going?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy. "I am going to look for an adventure!" Uncle Wiggily answered to his muskrat lady housekeeper. "But it's dark!" squeaked Nurse Jane.

"So much the better for adventures!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "But I will not be long. I am just going to the movies with Uncle Butter, the goat."

As soon as Uncle Wiggily hopped from his hollow stump bungalow Hoo Hoo, the owl, saw him. Flying on his soft, fluffy wings, the bird of the night told the Wolf and Fox.

"Ah, now we'll catch that rabbit!" snickered the Wolf.

Uncle Wiggily hopped along through the dark woods. All of a sudden, as he passed under an oak tree, he heard a sad voice saying: "Oh, I've fallen out! I've fallen out and I can't get back again! Oh, dear!"

"My goodness, that can't be a bird who has fallen from its nest," thought Uncle Wiggily. "For the time of nesting birds is over. I wonder who it is?"

In his pocket Uncle Wiggily had a little flash light made of some lightning bugs corked up in a bottle with honey to eat when they felt hungry. Flashing his lightning bug bottle on the ground, the bunny gentleman saw a little green toad.

The Fox and Wolf caught Uncle Wiggily by his ears, but before they could nibble him there was a queer, thrilling whistle in the oak tree and then down showered a lot of hard acorns, hitting the Fox and Wolf on their noses.

"Oh, that must be the police!" howled the Wolf.

"Yes, I guess so," agreed the Fox. "I heard the police whistle and they're throwing bullets at us. Let's run!"

"I'd better fly, too," croaked Hoo Hoo, the owl.

So away ran the Fox and Wolf and away the owl flew. And then the little tree toad laughed. "I fooled the bad chaps with my thrilling whistle and by throwing acorns at them," he laughed.

"Indeed you did!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "Now it is my turn to thank you."

"Oh, don't mention such a little thing," said the tree toad. And with a low and polite bow Uncle Wiggily hopped on to go to the movies with Uncle Butter, having had a wonderful adventure.

And if the hat pin doesn't try to jump through the toy balloon and make it pop like a soda water bottle, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the piano.

10 Years Ago Today
From Evening News Files

Friday night marked the second of a series of dances which will be given during the winter by the following men: Messrs. Frank Wilkins, Leon Bachman and Lawrence Lawson. They received their guests at the home of Dr. C. W. Bachman, 303 West Ninth street.

The News has ten carrier boys who deliver the papers in various parts of Glendale, Tropic and Casa Verdugo.

There was great rejoicing in the home of Peter L. Ferry Sunday morning. The stork left a beautiful baby girl. While Mr. Ferry has a standing order for six boys, he says he will take all the girls he can get.

The Glendale Union High school has received about thirty new flags for the decoration of the different classrooms and hall of the main building.

On the Spur of the Moment

By ROY K. MOULTON

THE SIMPLE LIFE

If I should say to you, my own, The town no longer holds its lure, And that I long to be alone (With you beside me, to be sure) On some far-off fair countryside, Some bosky dell, some verdant lea, Would you, I ask myself, deride, Or would you sympathize with me?

Were I to say I'm sick of strife And this mad questing after gain And that I'd seek the quiet life, Would you regard me with disdain?

Would you believe me if I said That gold to me means less than naught, That meadows green, the sunset red Are more than cash has ever bought?

Would you, my darling, scoff and jeer If I abandoned urban ways, Forsook the city's false veneer, And in the country spent my days?

The lowing herd, a field of rye, A gathering of humble huts—Don't speak! I see it in your eye! You'd think (and I'd agree) I'm nuts.

A middle westerner is reported to have engraved a likeness of William Jennings Bryan on the head of a pin, and bright little Republican readers can get the point without going further.

Maybe, at that, it was anti-Darwin Bryan who coined the phrase: "You can't make a monkey out of me."

If Henry Ford ever gets to be President, it's to be hoped that the political machine won't miss on two cylinders. Of course, the campaign may flivver.

If we ever get to be President, and at present no better odds than 1 to 13 have been offered, some one will undoubtedly come to us and discover what inspiration we received from a philosophical shoemaker. Our dealings with this tribe have been confined to working over which the holes in it, so that we can present the other foot for fitting and inspection. And generally we have guessed wrong.

Half the world spends its time trying to figure out how the other half got that way.

GIVING EUROPE A TREAT

Our old friend and compatriot H. I. Phillips, is in Europe, and he asks us to insert the following ad at space rates, which we have to do:

Dear Roy: H. I. Phillips and Dumm and Dummer

Are seeing Europe end the summer They will be back, if they keep sober, Along about the tenth of October.

Having a perfectly rotten time. Wish you were here.—H. I. P. The super-salesman is the man who can sell framed copies of the Volstead law to foreign steamship companies.

SPEAKING OF BRAINS

"Brains," Says our boxing expert, "Wins heavyweight fights And all other fights."

Far be it from us To match our opinion Against that of any expert, But we have an opinion In regard to this matter, Which may be worth nothing, But is still our own, And that opinion is That there have been No brains mixed up in At least heavyweight fights Since James J. Corbett And Old Robert Fitzsimmons Passed out of the ring.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

NAIL-BITING

The nail-biting habit usually begins with a child at 2 or 3 years of age. Once acquired, it is one of the hardest habits to control and it may persist for life. It is not a sign of degeneracy at all, although, of course, degenerates may bite their nails. I know a few brilliant men and women who occasionally diet on nails. I remember an embarrassing incident.

I was having tea at the home of a very noted doctor. Commenting upon an attendant at the medical library whose personality was very marked, I said that his hands with his bitten-off finger nails revolted me, but I added quickly—before I noticed that the doctor looked embarrassed—that I ought not to condemn anyone for that because occasionally one or two of my own nails would look the same. At that the doctor and his wife laughed, and the doctor said it was a habit he also had occasionally.

We discussed the habit very thoroughly and we both had the same conclusions about it—that the biting of a nail was an effort to get it smooth and that if we had our nail files along (used surreptitiously, of course, in public) and could smooth the rough edge down, the inclination to bite it would be gone.

Personally, I find that I have to keep my nails highly manicured and very smooth else, when I am writing or studying, I occasionally find myself biting at one of them. I can remember having my hands slapped when I was a child for the habit, but I thoroughly believe they were not slapped hard and often enough.

When I find that I have succeeded pretty thoroughly in biting a nail, I have to put a small strip of adhesive plaster over it until it has grown sufficiently to smooth out again; and that is a nuisance. If you ever see me with a strip of adhesive plaster on the tip of a finger nail you will know the reason. This gives you an indication of how hard the habit is to break.

Sometimes children, and adults, too, will bite their nails down to the quick, so that there is hardly any nail left. Oftentimes they become infected. I never have done that, thank goodness! I think my method of putting adhesive straps on is a good idea in all cases. You have to put on a new set three or four times daily because they get soiled so easily. It is wise to have children who bite their nails go to a manicurist and have their nails polished. This will be an interesting event for them and help them to keep their nails in good condition.

The thing to do, of course, is to discourage the habit before it gets a hold. It may be necessary to put cardboard cuffs on the elbow such as we use for thumb sucking. We have directions at the office for making a very effective cuff which you may have by sending a stamped envelope to me, fully addressed to yourself, in care of this paper. You have to keep the cuff on daily until the habit is controlled. The adhesive strips may also prevent the habit forming.

It is important to break this habit far aside from the unkempt look of the nails there is the danger of putting infectious germs, worm eggs—if the child has worms—and other obnoxious material in the mouth, as well as danger of infections of the fingers if the nails are bitten to the quick. The sharp bits of nail liable to be swallowed, may cause trouble also.

Tomorrow—Swallowing Wrong Things and Swallowing Things Wrong.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose 4 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 250 words, and type letters, if possible, with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget to tell me if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Beautiful Young Girl In Washington Society

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young lady in my teens and am in love with a young man who was injured while working about two months ago. He is still in the hospital and I have been down to see him. Do you think that it was all right for me to go?

He says that no other girl can take the place in his heart that I do, but I rather doubt his love because he doesn't write to me while he is in the hospital. Do you think that we should write to each other while he is there?

I have a lot of boy friends, but the one that is in the hospital gets angry when I go out with my other friends. I believe I care more for him than any of the rest. Do you think he really loves me, or is it just puppy love?

BOBBED-HAIRED BEAUTY.
It was all right for you to call on your sick friend at the hospital. A correspondence would be all right if the young man were interested, but he does not seem to be. It may be, however, that he would really enjoy a correspondence but as yet has not the strength to keep up his end of it. You ought to be able to judge his condition and find out from his nurse.

Of course, it is impossible for me to say whether or not he loves you. I know even less about his state of mind and heart than you do.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a girl friend whom I like very much, but she is hard to get along with. I have a quick temper too, and so we very often have quarrels. The great difference with us is that when the fit of temper is over I am sorry we have quarreled and am ready to say so and make up. She likes to let me abuse her for some time afterward and she would die before she would say she was sorry first.

We have just had a quarrel which was really her fault. Before I have felt justified in taking the first step to make up, but this time I feel that I would compromise myself decidedly. What would you advise me to do?

POPINA.

Since the quarrel was not caused by any fault of yours and you feel you would compromise yourself by taking the first steps toward reconciliation, I would advise you to wait for your friend to come to you. Try not to hold a chip on your shoulder and be ready to accept any effort on her part to become friends again.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am quite perplexed over a little problem that occurred a short time ago.

It happened on a Wednesday night when my girl friend and I went to town. We were just starting home when we met two boy friends. We talked with them for a while and then as it was growing late we decided we had better go home. One of the boys had a Ford sedan and offered to take us home. We accepted and my girl friend got in the car first and sat down in the back seat; I followed and then the other boy.

What I wish to know is: Should I have gotten in the front seat with the boy that owned the car? My friend declares I should have, but I could not see that we had paired off to go with either fellow.

Please tell me whether I did right or wrong. BROWNIE.
You should have seated yourself next to the driver. It was not a question of "pairing off." The driver, however, probably felt embarrassed and thought you did not want to sit next to him. Naturally he wanted a driving companion and did not particularly enjoy the fact that his friend was favored with two, while he played chauffeur.

BEAUTY CHATS

A great many women do garden work because they like to, and a great many because they have to. It's healthy work. No one denies that. It can be beautifying too, if you'll make it so.

The trouble with gardening is that it dries the skin of the hands, stains the nails, and sunburns the back of the neck and the arms. Well, don't go out without wearing a dark dress, high enough to cover your part way up the back of the neck, and with sleeves down to your wrists. Wear a broad-brimmed hat, lined with something dark. And wear gloves. You cannot freckle or tan protected like this, and you cannot hurt your hands. None of these precautions take any extra time.

Gardening is exhausting work for anyone not very strong; it makes you bend with stretched back and cramped chest, which isn't good for you. But if you'll straighten up now and then, pull your shoulders back and take a long, deep breath of air, you'll avoid cramped muscles and an aching spine. You'll find it easier to cut your garden work in two, doing half early in the day and half later on. This avoids a prolonged strain.

One of the good things about gardening is that it makes you perspire freely, a process good not only for the skin but for the entire system. If you can work among your flowers and vegetables while the sun is bright—but never so hot as to exhaust you by its intensity—and when you have finished take a warm bath with a quick cold sponge-off or shower to follow, and then lie down for a few minutes, you'll find yourself wonderfully refreshed, with a clear skin and glowingly bright eyes when you begin to dress again.

E. G. C.: Moles should never receive home treatment. Go to your doctor. Tiny brown moles are rarely disfiguring and it is best to leave them alone. These little marks often lend an appearance of clearness to the complexion much the same as the old-time beauty patch did, when a small piece of court plaster was used for contrast in coloring.

Florence L.—F. J. M.: I shall be glad to mail you a hair tonic formula that will correct this condition of your scalp. Include a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

X. Y. Z.: As you do not know your doctor's wife, and contemplate mailing only your marriage announcement, there is no reason why any but the doctor's name

Make your outdoor work a beauty treatment.

An invitation to your wedding would be different as there would be social obligations entailed.

Tomorrow—Answered Letters.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

VISITING LETTER CARRIERS GUESTS

Convention Delegate Tells of Boosting Glendale in Rhode Island

The regular monthly meeting of the Jewel City branch, No. 1983, of the National Association of Letter Carriers was held Saturday night at the K. P. hall, Brand Boulevard and Park avenue, President Oscar W. Wright being in charge of the meeting. All the officers, as well as the majority of the Glendale carrier force, were present.

The guests of the evening were delegates from Pasadena, Hollywood, Los Angeles and Burbank. After the regular business session, William Gamble of the Glendale carrier force, who was delegate-at-large from California to the recent national conference of letter carriers at Providence, R. I., presented a detailed report of the doings of the convention.

Mr. Gamble was warmly praised for the manner in which he had represented this state at the convention and especially for his work in distributing Glendale literature that was furnished him by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

The lunch that was served in the banquet room was enjoyed by about 150 persons, and addresses were made by W. W. Hunt, foreman of the Glendale postoffice, F. C. Davis of Glendale, and by representatives of Burbank, Los Angeles and Hollywood, the visiting delegates praising the hospitality of the Glendale branch.

- Breakfast: Cantaloupe, Cereal, Coffee, Fried Eggs, Toast
 - Luncheon: Minced (Leftover) Lamb on Wholewheat Toast, Shredded Lettuce with Mayonnaise Dressing, Tea, Rolls, Jelly
 - Dinner: Hot Beef Loaf, Baked Potatoes, Beets, Cold Slaw, Coffee, Raisin Pie

Split Pea Soup—Place a two-pound beef bone and a slice of ham, which weighs about one-fourth pound, in your soup kettle. Add one gallon of cold water, one pint of either split peas or small white beans, two pared and sliced (uncooked) carrots, two large sticks of celery cut into pieces, and salt and pepper to suit individual taste; boil this mixture for two hours, strain through a sieve (pressing all the vegetables that will go) add one heaping teaspoon of butter and more salt, if necessary, and bring again to the boiling point before serving. This is a delicious soup.

Macaroni Ramekins—Boil enough macaroni in salted water to fill small individual ramekins, or any kind of baking dishes, to serve your family. When cooked to the tender stage, drain well and curl the macaroni up in the small dishes, filling each dish three-quarters full. Slice into four of these dishes two hard-boiled eggs. Add salt and pepper to season well. Now moisten the macaroni with a plain white sauce made by thickening hot, sweet milk with a little flour and adding butter, salt and pepper to season. Cover each

High Car Fares Hold No Fears for Them

High car fares to and from Los Angeles have no terrors for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Scott of 1002 East Elk street. This young married couple located in Glendale the early part of this year, and enjoy the distinction, as far as can be learned, of being the only residents of this city who have never yet rode in or from Los Angeles on a street car. Mr. Scott is connected with one of the large city banks, and makes daily trips, but they both prefer the automobile to street cars as a means of transportation.
